DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/04/2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 12, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 12 recites the limitation "the total amount of fungible precious metal" in lines 10-11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

4. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: (i) determination of total amount of fungible precious metal represented by the plurality of electronic files from the identified amount of the fungible precious metal identified for each of the plurality of plurality of electronic files (iii) determination or identification of the quantity of fungible precious metal stored in the secure facilities.

Art Unit: 3623

5. Claim 12 is indefinite because it claims that “the total amount” represented by electronic data files is less than the (amount) stored in the secure facilities. There is no basis or steps which would render the total amount to be less than or equal to any other amount. Merely identifying an amount represented by one data file and calculating a total amount for does not ensure this. All steps of the claim are functionally unrelated because each step may be performed independent of each other.

Examples:

Amount of the fungible precious metal can be identified without identifying the unique serial number.

Identifying a date associated with the file can be performed without any performing other steps.

Verifying a digital signature of the electronic file can performed regardless of any other steps.

The examiner cannot determine the scope of claim(s) presented in the form currently presented because of the numerous deficiencies outlined above which render the claim(s) unclear and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 12, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori (US Pat. 4,932,485).

As per claims 12-13 and 15, Mori discloses a computer program product embodied on computer-readable medium (ROM 27 and RAM 27) which comprises code that causes a computer (CPU 21) (see Figure 1) to:

Identify a unique serial number (col. 4 L 25-29 PLU and customer file 27d, Figure. 7);

Identifying an amount of represented by electronic file (col. 4 L 25-29 PLU and customer file 27d, Figure 7 “total weight”).

Mori fails to teach that the amount pertains to the fungible precious metal. However these differences are only found in the nonfunctional descriptive material and are not functionally involved in the steps recited. The identifying step merely identifies an attribute of the data. Identifying would be performed the same regardless of the nature data. Thus, this descriptive material will not distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art in terms of patentability, see In re Gulack, 703 F.2d 1381, 1385, 217 USPQ 401, 404 (Fed. Cir. 1983), In re Lowry, 32 F.3d 1579, 32 USPQ2d 1031 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made identify an amount of the fungible precious metal in the same manner Mori identifies “total weight” of the item because such data does not functionally relate to the steps in the method claimed and because the subjective interpretation of the data does not patentably distinguish the claimed invention.
